Emma Nilsson Web & UX-Designer

— Based in Stockholm.

I am a curious, organized, and fun-loving individual originally from Skåne. I moved from Ystad to Stockholm in August 2021 to pursue studies in IT.

Before embarking on my academic journey, I spent over 12 years working in the service industry in various roles, including dishwasher, barista, and sales assistant. I am a creative person with a passion for culture—everything from design, music, and art to theater and food.

In May 2023, I graduated with a degree in Front-End Development, but my curiosity for design led me to start a new educational path in the fall of 2023. I have now completed my UX/UI design studies and am a certified UX designer. My goal has always been to combine my technical skills with my design interests within the IT sector. I am highly passionate about both IT and design, known for my organizational skills, ability to handle multiple tasks, and eagerness to explore new trends and technologies in the industry.
